Crops Need Rain.
Westville, Okla., July 14.—Corn and cotton in this section of the state are needing rain and it is believed a week of the hot weather continued will do considerable damage. Wheat is yielding from 19 to 20 bushels to the acre. Meadows are good and are yielding considerable hay. Oats are medium, having been dwarfed by a week of dry weather early in May.

FOR RENT—A four-room house in College Addition. Phone 134. Mrs. R. V. McSpadden.
FOR RENT—Two resident rooms and barn. Fowler.

Oh! Look Here's Who!
The Billiken Players, the show that produces shows as they ought to be will open a week's engagement at the Grand Theatre Monday night, presenting a first class comedy-drama of now-a-days, entitled, "For the Honor of a Girl." This excellent company comes from Parsons where they have been "turning e'm away" nightly and Manager Moorhead of that city says they have pleased his patrons beyond words. New vaudeville of the better kind will be given between acts. Prices 10, 20 and 30c. One lady's ticket free with every 30c ticket purchased before 7 p. m.

Third Cotton Oil Mill at Chickasha.
Chickasha, Okla., July 15.—Announcement was made Saturday that Chickasha will secure another large oil mill this fall. The new mill will be one of the new cold press type. Wadsworth and White, prominent capitalists of this city, will erect the mill. The site has been secured on the Frisco tracks and work will begin on the construction of the mill at once. The cold press is a new type of mill, there being only a few of them in service in Oklahoma. The completion of this new mill will make three large cotton oil plans in this city.

Oil is Indicated.
El Reno, Okla., July 14.—Drilling operations on El Reno's deep well have reached a depth of 1,200 feet and a salt water gusher has been struck which the drillers assert is a favorable indication of oil or gas. The same kind of a gusher was struck by them before oil was reached in the Electra, Texas, fields just before they came to El Reno.
